

Placing a Sample or Proof Order

Want to ensure your color comes out as expected before placing a large order or see the quality of prints PrintsWell offers?

Place a test order!

Placing a test order is easy and there are a few ways to do it to reduce paper waste and get the most out of a single sample.

Order your test on the same paper as your final project. Ink colors can appear different depending on the paper chosen.

Option 1

You can place multiple designs or pieces of artwork to one 11x17 file and order one 11x17 flat card. This is the best way to test a full wedding suite before ordering multiple pieces separately. Your items will not be cut down to size using this option.

You can also order a larger flat card for color swatches of your curated palette.

Option 2

If you are looking for a sample of multiple designs as the final product of the same size item, you can order a variable print job using a multi-page pdf. This will give you one card per design within the set of cards. To learn more about that file setup, checkout out our Variable Setup Guidelines.

Option 3

Order the minimum quantity. Our minimums are quite low, with most standard size card minimums being just 10. Ordering this with the desired packaging can show you just how the order will look once it arrives on the customers doorstep!
